

WNYC Culture

Celebrating Black History Month in New York City

Tuesday, February 01, 2011

By WNYC Culture

Black Brooklyn Renaissance, at the BAMcafé Live This month, the Brooklyn Arts Council closes out Black Brooklyn Renaissance, Black Arts + Culture, 1960-2010, a year-long project that celebrates art from Brooklyn's African diaspora. On February 11, drummer Talu Green performs with the Brown Memorial Baptist Church gospel group Singers with a Testimony (S.W.A.T.) and spoken-word artist Climbing Poetree. The February 12 show includes performances from singer Maya Azucena and dancer-choreographer Francine Ott. Free, in Brooklyn.