

Intergenerations: Toshi Reagon and Friends

Festivals: Special Event Music

As part of the summer season of its yearlong initiative, BLACK BROOKLYN RENAISSANCE, Brooklyn Arts Council Presents “Intergenerations: Toshi Reagon and Friends” at Southpaw in Park Slope on Thursday, July 29 at 9pm. The legendary singer and composer backed by her band BIGLovely, will partner with a group of Brooklyn-based women musicians for a multi-generational, musical celebration of the African Diaspora. Special guests include hardcore-soul queen Tamar-kali, and soulful singers Karma Mayet Johnson, Sun Singleton and Stephanie Battle.

Black Brooklyn Renaissance (February 2010– February 2011), features performances, exhibitions, screenings, symposia and workshops, a conference, an oral history project and an archive celebrating the African Diaspora in Brooklyn. Visit www.brooklynartscouncil.org/blackbrooklynrenaissance for more info and the complete calendar of summer events.

WHEN: Thursday, July 29, 9–11pm; 8:30pm: Doors

WHERE: Southpaw, 125 5th Ave. (Park Slope)

TICKETS: $10; available in advance at www.spsounds.com and at door.

Where: SouthPaw

Price: $10

When: 8:30pm Thu 7.29.10-11:30pm Thu 7.29.10